

Forty Million American Children and Adults Experience Dyslexia

“I was one of the “The Puzzle Children”/PBS Special myself – a dyslexic or “reverse reader”. You have a challenge; never quit!”
Words of the 41st Vice President of the United States, Nelson Rockefeller

Famous People With Dyslexia

Neil Bush – son of George Herbert Walker and Barbara Bush
Richard Branson – English entrepreneur
Anderson Cooper – CNN news anchor
Tom Cruise – actor
Fannie Flagg – comedian
Danny Glover - actor
Whoopi Goldberg – actress
Goldie Hawn – actress
Magic Johnson – Basketball Hall of Fame
Keira Knightly – actress/Pirates of the Caribbean
Jay Leno – comedian/talk show host
Greg Louganis – U.S. Olympic Gold Medalist
Bob May – golfer
Paul Mark Oakenfold – English record producer/Earth, Wind & Fire Band
Jamie Oliver – chef
Paul J. Orfalea – Kinko’s founder
Nolan Ryan – baseball pitcher
Tom Smothers - comedian
Steven Spielberg – director
Henry Winkler – actor

Deceased

Mohammed Ali – world heavy weight champion
Hans Christian Andersen – author
Harry Belafonte - singer
Alexander Graham Bell - inventor
George Burns - comedian
Agatha Christie – author
Winston Churchill – political leader
Leonardo Da Vinci – wrote notes backwards
Walt Disney – American film producer
Thomas Edison - inventor
Albert Einstein – great mind of his century
Steve Jobs – Apple co-founder
Steve McQueen – actor
Pablo Picasso – Spanish artist/sculptor
Nelson Rockefeller – 41st U.S. Vice President/President Gerald Ford
Robin Williams – actor/comedian
Woodrow Wilson – 28th U.S. President
Loretta Young - actress

